McCarthy Criticizes
U.S. Dominican Policy
Sen. McCarthy joined Sen. Fulbright as a critic of U. S. action in the Dominican Republic upheaval. In the early stages of the coup, said Sen. McCarthy, the U. S. "evidently had no knowledge of its leaders, nor were we prepared to make a quick decision whether to support or reject it." He said the U. S. must give more economic and political support to Latin countries if it intends to intervene "in such incidents."
